Power, More of It
Leisure and Money
Some Gangster, Napoleon
Welcome to Brazil

Important to the human race are physical power and mental power. Mental power has stood still for about two thousand years. Physical power is constantly increasing.

A German has found a way to increase the power of engines, gasoline, Diesel or steam, from 20 to 60 per cent, his new kind of turbine using the power of exhaust gases.

Lufthansa, great German air company, has ordered a Diesel engine built on the new plan for airplane experiment. Fuel oil will be used.

Germany leads the world in mechanical invention and in chemistry.

Professor Claude, one of the world's most distinguished physicists, informs the French Academy of Science that he is making progress in his effort to utilize power from the ocean.

A small fraction of the tidal power would have all other power unnecessary. The tides, once harnessed, would run our machinery as long as the sun and moon combine to raise and drop the waters of the ocean.

Professor Claude's experiments use the warm water at the surface of tropical seas to operate a turbine, the water being converted to steam by means of a vacuum. Cold water from the depths of the sea is used to recondense the steam and renew the vacuum.

It is complicated for the nonscientific mind, but if there is an inexhaustible store of power in tropical sea water, that certainly will make a great difference to enormous populations living near the equator in comparative idleness.

The death of Sir Henry Segrave, brilliant, courageous Englishman, will be regretted everywhere.

He had developed new speeds in motorboats and automobiles, and was killed when a boat in which he was going 100 miles an hour turned over and sunk.

Mr. Nelson Rockefeller, grandson of John D. Rockefeller, writes on "The Use of Leisure," in the Dartmouth alumni magazine. The article is well written, serious.

In time the young man's problem will be "the use of money." His father and grandfather do not live extravagantly. They give away a great deal, but common interest is more powerful than their giving. With any sort of engagement the third generation of Rockefeller should have at least five billions of dollars. A large sum to use satisfactorily.

Napoleon said his government could not last if he allowed liberty to the press.

Chicago gangsters seem to have heard about that. A gangster bullet in the back of the head killed Alfred Lingie, Chicago Tribune reporter.

Lingie, it seems, knew more about gang criminals than a reporter ought to know, according to gang standards. Chicago takes seriously this latest killing. But conviction is impracticable. The killer probably was some youth in his teens fortified with cocaine. Paid for the job, he did not know the name of the man he killed, perhaps doesn't know it yet.

It is hard for detectives to work in the absence of any motive.

President-Elect Julio Prestes de Albuquerque of Brazil, coming to visit us, will be welcome everywhere. As head of Brazil's government, he represents a gigantic empire, magnificently typical of wealth and greatness in America.

Larger than the United States, with one water power much more powerful than Niagara, a soil of fertility indescribable, diamond mines whose blue-white products surpass all others, and, most important, an intelligent, patriotic, hard-working people, our guest from Brazil speaks for a nation of whose friendship this country may be proud.

Wall Street continues to worry small fish, and reflect the actions of bigger ones.

Little ones worry, and sell. Bigger ones, that have been turning out stocks, tens of millions of shares at a time, do not want any "violence," so they let the market slide down hill a little while, then steady it.

When you may see a tender father gently catch his little child as it jumps from a height.

But one of these days the child may be seriously bumped.

New York city clinics announce "free plastic surgery." If you don't like your face the city will change it for you if you have a good reason.

No beauty parlor business will be done, no face lifting to hide wrinkles.

The idea is to improve faces that interfere with securing employment. Deformed noses, "cauliflower" ears, torn lips, caved-in cheek bones that make faces repulsive, will be attended to.

Grover Alexander, famous baseball pitcher, is "unconditionally released" by the Philadelphia National league club. It means that his day is done.

Such is fame, when you acquire it with arms, legs, physical strength.

ERNST JOHN TAKES LIFE BY POISON

WAS WELL KNOWN BEAVER CREEK FARMER

Ernst John, age 46, was found in his garage at his home in Beaver Creek township Saturday night by Mr. and Mrs. Anderson who reside at Higgins Lake and who had gone there for milk. An autopsy performed by Dr. Clippert the following day proved that he had died from poison, presumably by his own hands. Notes addressed to his brother Fritz, in Germany, and to Miss Anna Tycheck, his fiancée, were found on the kitchen table.

It was a great shock to the community and immediately Sheriff Bobenmoyer was called to the scene. He was accompanied by Coroner Emil Kraus and Merton Burrows.

The body was found in the garage. There was no apparent evidence as to how he had died, however the finding of the two letters were quite sure that he had taken his own life. The appearance of the mouth and tongue and stomach indicated that he had used some powerful poison—probably carbolic acid. There was no empty bottle nor poison container to be found on or about the body. Apparently he had taken the poison and thrown the container away and then wandered to the garage where his body was found.

The letter addressed to his brother Fritz in Germany asked him not to come to America for it would do no good and that they would meet in heaven. The letter addressed to Miss Tycheck read as follows:

"Good bye, Anna Dear. G. how you must suffer! It is all my fault. I am going away. It was not you what was wrong that time."

"Please, Mr. Ogren, take care of my place as administrator. All papers are in vault in the cellar."

Ernst John.

The information of his death was sent to his brother Fritz in Germany, and the letter addressed to Miss Tycheck was taken to her home at Higgins Lake, about ten miles from the John home. The young lady was prostrate at the news and stated that they had intended to be married Tuesday (June 17) in Chicago. That they had intended to drive Monday to Cadillac where they would take a train for Chicago where they would have relatives and where they would be married.

Miss Tycheck said that everything had been fine between them and that both were looking forward to the time that they would have a home together. Mr. John had been to Roscommon Saturday and drawn about $200 from the Roscommon bank which they intended to use on their trip.

He had asked Miss Tycheck to keep the money but she said "No, you keep it." There had been no trouble between them but John had been quite disturbed by the kidding some of his neighbors had been giving him about his girl, and about getting married. He was naturally modest and, living distant from neighbors, saw but little of other folk and often times felt shy in their presence. He seemed to be in an unusual kind of despondency. That he was deeply in love with Miss Tycheck seemed quite evident. Just what apprehensions he may have had can only be guessed at. Apparently he could not endure any possibility of losing Miss Tycheck. Judging from stories told he had talked with her of suicide and only the day before we understood, he had suggested that they drown themselves in the creek (Beaver Creek) that ran thru his farm near his home. Miss Tycheck had talked him out of these moods and was surprised and shocked to learn the next day that he had taken his own life.

The officers searched the body and found $230 on his person, and besides it is reported that he had deposits in the Roscommon bank. In the vault the officers found deeds and insurance policies, all of which they took possession.

Mr. John was born in Germany and had been living in Beaver Creek township for about ten years. By his industry and thrift he had accumulated considerable property and owned an unusually fine farm home. Besides doing farming he made a business of building boats in which line he had built up an enviable reputation as a builder and his boats were in ready demand. He was known as a man of the strictest integrity and was often referred to as "Honest John." His fiancée, Miss Tycheck, is a fine, intelligent and sensible young German girl and those who have met her are unanimous in feeling that she would have been an ideal wife for Mr. John, and there seems to be general regret that their plans could not have culminated instead of ending in such a calamity.

As requested in Mr. John's letter Judge Sorenson of the Probate Court appointed Mr. Olof Ogren as administrator of the estate of Mr. John. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon in the Congregational church of Roscommon; interment was in Higgins Lake cemetery. There was large attendance at the funeral. The casket was covered with many wreaths and sprays of flowers, tokens of respect from those who knew him best and who respected him as a good neighbor and a good citizen.

Bill Merrick was arrested last week by Sheriff Bobenmoyer for reckless driving. The officer found him in his car, he said, in an intoxicated condition.

Justice Petersen sentenced him to pay a fine of $50 and, in default of payment of the fine, be committed to jail for a period of 30 days.

Being unable to pay the fine he is serving the jail sentence.

BIG GATHERING OF ODD FELLOWS

ALPENA TO BE HOST TO GRAND LODGE OFFICIALS AND LODGES OF SEVERAL COUNTIES

Saturday, June 21st, is the date for a big gathering of Odd Fellows, when a "get together meeting" of the lodges in the counties of Alpena, Presque Isle, Montmorency, Alcona, Oscoda, Isosco, Crawford and Ogemaw will be held in the city of Alpena.

The principal feature of the occasion will be the conferring of the initiatory degree on a large class of candidates from the various lodges by a degree team composed wholly of Grand Lodge officials. Among those participating in the degree work will be Grand Master Earl W. Jackson, Deputy Grand Master Elmer E. Battle, Grand Warden, Dow of Stanton, Grand Secretary, Rogers of Lansing, Grand Master, Towner of Morley, Grand Conductor, Collins of Iron River, Grand Chaplain Kilpatrick of Wyandotte, Grand Guardian Dehneke of Harrisville, Grand Herald Sharpe of Bay City, Past Grand Masters Gray of Lansing, Hanson of East Tawas, Draper of Huron, Gribble of Hiram, and C. Lindroos, Swope of Paw Paw, McLymont of Grand Rapids, Brule of Detroit, Ford of Dearborn and Curtis of Pontiac.

This meeting promises to be the largest fraternal gathering ever held in this section of the state with the exception of the session of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows at Alpena in 1924.

The following candidates from Grayling will be initiated into the order: Oscar and William Sierman, Angus Martin, A. E. Anderson, Hans Paul, Joseph, Carl Lindroos, W. Robert King, Elmer McEvers, Ed. Moore, Devere, DeLoott and Truman Lavack. These young men will leave Grayling at one o'clock Saturday afternoon, accompanied by Roy McEvers and C. R. King in charge. The initiatory degree will be exemplified by Grand Lodge officers entirely.

CITIES READY TO PICK CARNIVAL QUEENS

With West Branch already going strong in its open contest, other districts are looking forward to the dates set for their participating in this phase of the second annual Eastern Michigan Water Carnival, to be held this year at Bay City July 31, Aug. 1 and 2.

West Branch is closing her contest up July 1, and on July 4 a queen from each town in the district will be chosen from the group eligible to compete for this honor.

Grayling's tentative plans are to close the contest in time to select the winners July 4. The contest opened last week and will see the start of the Cheboygan district contests, and these will finish July 18. Judging will be Monday, July 21. This follows the night before the judging at Grayling, and two nights before the judging date set for Lansing.

The Grayling contest, which concludes either July 18 or 19, will begin July 1. Alpena district will start its voting about July 1, but the window will come probably July 18, at a Water Carnival planned for Alpena.

The local contest at Bay City takes place July 1 to July 28, and the judging here July 25.

The newly-created Clare district, made from a part of the Midland district, East Tawas, Midland, Standish and Bad Axe have not set dates for their contests, but at meetings held at each capital it was indicated that the contests would be under way before the end of the month.

GRAYLING MAN PAYS DEARLY FOR VENISON

BARTON WAKELEY SERVING 60 DAYS IN JAIL AND TO PAY $60 FINE

Barton Wakeley, apparently, isn't going to enjoy much of the big out doors this summer and instead is serving a sixty day jail sentence for killing a deer out of season.

He was apprehended by Conservation Officer R. S. Babbitt Saturday and admitted that he had killed the deer the day previous. He still had a quarter of venison on hand at the time of his arrest.

Justice Petersen sentenced him to pay a fine of $60.00 and to serve 60 days in jail. And that in case his fine was not paid by the time his 60 days jail sentence was ended that he was to be committed 90 days more in jail.

CLAUDE BARBER REACHES RUSSIA

Stalingrad Tractor Plant, Stalingrad, U.S.S.R., May 17.

Dear Folks at Home: We landed in Stalingrad Wednesday at 4:30 p. m. We were met at the dock by the officials of the tractor plant and taken to our apartments.

We sure had a fine trip all the way. Six days crossing the Atlantic over days in London, two days on the North Sea, about four days on the Baltic Sea and the Kiel canal, one day in Leningrad and one day in Moscow. We went by train from Leningrad to the Volga river and took the boat again and came thru to Stalingrad; was on the river nearly five days. We traveled about 5,000 miles on water and 2,500 miles by train, made the trip in twenty days and were treated fine in every country.

The people here crossing the Atlantic over days in London, two days on the North Sea, about four days on the Baltic Sea and the Kiel canal, one day in Leningrad and one day in Moscow. We went by train from Leningrad to the Volga river and took the boat again and came thru to Stalingrad; was on the river nearly five days. We traveled about 5,000 miles on water and 2,500 miles by train, made the trip in twenty days and were treated fine in every country.

Our apartments consist of four rooms and bath, modern in every way, just built this year. We take our meals at a restaurant and get good food and plenty of it. The Volga river is about 20 rods from our apartment. It is two miles wide and offers good fishing so you see where I spend a lot of my time. The factory is American built with American machinery of the latest design.

It is quite warm here, too warm for comfort, but the nights are cool. The desert is about 60 miles south west of here so we get the desert winds which are quite hot. I think I will be through here in about eight months then be transferred to another plant down by the Caspian Sea which is being built now. You see quite a few camels here, seems queer to see them hauling a wagon. This country is quite rolling and lots of good land which is not being cultivated. The Russian people are building a club house for the Americans that are here. They try to make everything as pleasant as they can and we get along good. The water is not very good but beer is only 30 kopecks or 15c a quart so there is no use to bother with water. The Russian money is easy to count, about like the money in the States, only named different. I sent cards and letters at most stops we made and hope you received them all. I must close and go to bed.

Love to all,
Your son,
Claude Barber.

FIRST GRAYLING ALUMNI MEETING

The Senior class of 1930 gained more and more attention as the date of commencement came to an end. One of the most interesting social functions of the graduating students was an Alumni banquet held in the Michelson Memorial church dining room Thursday evening. Invitations were issued by the Senior class to all graduates of Grayling High School, the invitations also being extended to their immediate families.

There were one hundred twenty-five who attended, including the teachers and members of the board of education.

The banquet was served by the Ladies Aid Society of the Michelson Memorial church. The menu follows: Fruit cocktail, scalloped potatoes, meat loaf with tomato sauce, vegetable salad, hot rolls, sherry, cake and coffee. The young ladies of the Senior class ably assisted with the serving.

The Senior class and Mr. and Mrs. H. L. LaBarge were seated at a table especially prepared for them, the color scheme being carried out in the class colors of crimson and gray. Green and white decorations were used throughout the room and with the bouquets of flowers on the five long tables, the effect was very attractive.

Don Reynolds very capably acted as toastmaster of the evening and opened the program by asking all to rise and sing "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here." Miss McAllister assisted at the piano and Charles Hill led the singing. The toastmaster then greeted the Senior class as follows:

"It is indeed a pleasure to be granted the privilege of welcoming into our midst this evening the class of 1930. To these sixteen beautiful young ladies and thirteen dashing young gentlemen this occasion is dedicated. I am advised that the individual scholarship records of these graduates are possessions to be proud of and let us hope that they are aware of the great ordeal they are about to pass through; that ordeal, as it is said, of passing out of school life, into life's school. It has oft-times been wondered why there has not been an Alumni organization for Grayling. The attendance this evening should prove to us that the prospects for continuing a club of this nature are certainly bright enough. This evening is the beginning of a new era for Grayling High Alumni, an era that will bring visions of old school days, frequent visits to Grayling High and once or twice a year an occasion of this kind so that they may enjoy these school thrills that we experienced when we were schoolmates.

Each year Grayling sends its graduates out into the world. How great it would be to have them all return now and then so that we could live through innumerable happenings that brightened our school life; that desperate freight train ride in the cold of the winter of 1922, that fastened the name of "Hobbes" upon one of Grayling's famous basketball squads and the High School. Tattler that took pleasure in telling on them after their northern invasion. That basketball team made history for the Green and White. One of their forwards, Emerson Brown, took every honor that could be awarded one man at a regional tournament. That year Grayling High School possessed a High School orchestra, Glee Clubs and quartet that was envied by most high schools in this part of the state. Those musical organizations furnished entertainment at all occasions. By an alumni association, sleigh rides, steak fries and school parties could be recalled and we could almost taste the ecstasy of those times when we played and studied together. By an alumni association we could bring

TRAVERSE CITY CHERRY FESTIVAL

TO BE HELD JULY 9TH TO 11TH

Traverse City, June 18.—With a cherry crop of thirty-five million pounds ripening on the trees of the Grand Traverse region, by more than fifty per cent the largest yield in the history of the cherry industry in Michigan, the entire communities of Grand Traverse, Leelanau, Benzie and Antrim counties are joining in an immense festival of plenty and prosperity to be held in Traverse City July 9th to 11th.

In these four counties alone, experts contend, the value of the harvest will total more than two millions of dollars, of which $350,000 will go to pickers and orchard hands alone. The region is in funds; never before has there been so much money flowing into the cherry belt as will fill its pockets within the next three weeks.

The Cherry Festival will be a spontaneous expression of joy on the part of growers, packers and citizens in general. Governor Fred Green will fly from Lansing to take part in the festivities, and will be accompanied by the entire air squadron of the Michigan National Guard, which will perform battle maneuvers over the city for two days. The governor also will crown the Cherry Queen, for which high office scores of the towns of the region have entered candidates.

Among the important events will be the two free concerts by the National High School Orchestra camp at Interlochen, with orchestra and band of three hundred pieces. There will be races and contests in the air on the waters of Grand Traverse Bay, and ashore. A huge floral parade, marching to the music of thirty bands, will be the feature event of the last day of the Festival. At night five hundred citizens will present "The Legend of the Cherry," an historical pageant, the episodes of which were written by Harold Titus, famous Grand-Traverse novelist and conservationist, himself a successful cherry grower.

The Sisters of Mercy and graduating class of Mercy Hospital School of Nursing, cordially invites the public to attend the graduating exercises Thursday, June 20th, 1930, at 8:00 p. m. at the High School auditorium, followed by a dance in the High School gym.

MISS STAMMLER WINS SCHOLARSHIP PRIZE

The scholarship prize, granted to the student in the Frederic school receiving the highest average standing in personality, deportment, and scholarship, was awarded to Miss Rosalie Stammler.

As a pen has been the reward for a number of years, a change to a necklace of beads was thought desirable.

Miss Rosalie whose achievement is so worthy of mention is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Stammler of Frederic.

NO EVENING SERVICE IN JULY AND AUGUST

It has been announced by the official board of Michelson Memorial church that there will be no evening services during the months of July and August.

WINNERS IN WHO'S WHO IN GRAYLING

We print below the prize winners in the WHO'S WHO FEATURE published in the CRAWFORD AVALANCHE last week:

First prize—Clara Atkinson, 12 years old.

Second prize—Eva Swanson, 12 years old.

The winners of first and second prizes each sent in excellent reports, nicely and neatly prepared and very accurate. Each was so good that it was difficult to determine just which was the better of the two. Clara's was the first one to come in, and might be considered as a slight edge on the contest, and her clever manner, in replying to the questions, the judges felt, also gave her a slight advantage over that of Eva's, although the latter's penmanship was remarkable for a girl of 12 years.

HERE ARE THE ANSWERS

Bank of Grayling
This bank has been established since 1901. Mr. Marius Hanson has been a resident of Grayling 50 years. The assistant cashier of this bank is Holger Hanson.

Grayling Box Company
This company has been established 12 years. Mr. T. P. Peterson has been the manager 8 years. He recommends the Johns-Manville Roofing.

Carl W. Peterson
Carl Peterson has been in the jewelry business in Grayling 9 years. He recommends the Gruen Ladies Wrist Watch and the Elgin men's watches.

Alfred Hanson
Mr. Alfred Hanson has been in his present business since August 1, 1925. He recommends the Goodyear tire and sells the Willard batteries.

Shoppingtons Inn
Mr. Cassidy has been in the hotel business 9 years and 9 months. He has had this hotel 8 years and 9 months. It has 54 rooms.

Kerry & Hanson Flooring Co.
This company employs 85 people at present. They manufacture Maple, Birch and Beech Flooring Woods. They furnished the Hudson Building in Detroit with 750,000 feet of 25-32 x 2 1/2 First Grade Hard Maple Flooring.

Deckrow Plumbing & Heating Co.
Mr. Deckrow has been in the plumbing business 35 years. In Grayling 24 years. He recommends the Kohler and Standard plumbing fixtures.

Sorenson Bros.

MOTION PICTURES SHOW OIL WELLS

The most spectacular forest fire motion pictures ever taken by the Conservation Department were photographed during the recent Jordan River valley fire May 11.

Pictures showing the fire which swept more than 2,000 acres were taken during both the day and night. These films will become a part of a new forest fire reel to be released by the Educational Division of the Department next fall.

PILL-BOX TRAPS RID HOUSE OF RED ANTS

An ordinary pill box can be converted into an excellent trap for ants in a few minutes, and does not call for any mechanical ability whatever.

When properly made and baited this trap has been unusually satisfactory for breaking up colonies of the little red ants, sometimes known as Pharaoh's ants, which are so fond of sugar.

The pill-box trap, devised by Dr. R. T. Cotton and G. W. Ellington, entomologists of the United States Department of Agriculture, is very simple to make. Take an ordinary cardboard pill box, remove the top, and cut out four small square holes from the inner cover. Pour a thin layer of hot paraffin inside the box to make it water-tight. When in use the top of the box is partially raised to expose the holes and allow the ants to enter. Poison baits attract the ants to the trap, where they either die at once or carry the poison away and spread it among other ants.

A good homemade bait can be prepared by rubbing a small quantity of tatar emetic into small bits of bacon rind. Another bait which has given excellent results is made by dissolving 4 ounces of sugar in one-half pint of water, to which is added 20 grains of sodium arsenate and a little honey. Heat to boiling and strain. The best plan is to have the local druggist prepare this and other baits which contain violent poisons.

When a sirup bait is used the box should be partially filled with small bits of blotting paper and the sirup poured on the paper. When not in actual use the lids should be pushed all the way down on the boxes, and they should be put away where children and pets can not get to them.

MORE ABOUT OIL WELLS

There are now 134 producing oil wells in the Mt. Pleasant field, the newest large producing field in the state, and reports submitted the last week of May show 22 wells being drilled in this field, according to figures obtained from the Geological Survey Division of the Department of Conservation.

There are now more than 300 producing wells in the Muskegon field and 14 are now being drilled in that district.

The Geological Survey's figures showed for the last week of the month, a total of 89 wells being drilled in the state, including the 37 at Mt. Pleasant and the 14 at Muskegon. The number of wildcat wells being drilled totaled 38, and these were scattered in various parts of the state.

Mr. Craig has owned this bakery 2 years. He supplied bread for the Ford Plant in Detroit 4 years. The Grayling Bakery can bake 6000 loaves of bread daily.

J. F. Smith, Service Station
Mr. Smith has had this station 5 years. It is open from 6 a. m. to 10 p. m. The lowest priced oil sold here per quart is 25c.

The Sweet Shop
Mr. Hewitt has been in the Confectionery business 6 years. He has had the Sweet Shop that same length

BANK BANDITS GET LIFE IMPRISONMENT

TWO ELLIOTT SENTENCED TO MARQUETTE; REST GO TO JACKSON

Four men, three of them brothers, are now in Jackson state and Marquette prisons, sentenced to life imprisonment for the Antrim County State Savings Bank holdup at Manistota, June 2.

Two of the brothers, Sylvester Elliott, 23, and Leonard Elliott, 18, were committed to Marquette by Judge Farm C. Gilbert of the circuit court.

The other brother, Fred 25, and Loren Morrison, 19, were sentenced to Jackson. All four pleaded guilty when brought before Judge Gilbert.

The quartet was captured by a hastily organized posse after they had escaped with $936.

Fred and Leonard Elliott were wounded in the skirmish with the posse prior to their capture. In the hunt by possemen, Dr. John Gerver of Bellaire, was mistaken for one of the bandits and wounded.

His condition still is reported serious at a Petoskey hospital.

The holdup of the bank and subsequent temporary escape of the robbers precipitated one of the greatest manhunt ever staged in Northern Michigan.

Before the gang was rounded up four members of various posses had been wounded along with the two Elliott brothers.

I Went to the Pines

There is no place more charming in the vast northland than the virgin pines that sentinel our northern skies. The last visit there was rich in association. It was reminded of the fact that under tall trees, there knelt a heart-broken Christ; on a tree He broke His heart; on His brow, they hooked a crown of thorns; among the trees of a hillside was He buried; and with tree branches beneath His feet and waving over his head was He given ovation as the multitude watched the King of the Ages come to town.

Recent action by the Conservation Commission increased the state protection for twelve species of birds by prohibiting taking them under the regular "scientific collectors" permits.

The list of excepted species follows:

Sandhill Crane, Whooping Crane, Whistling Swan, Trumpeter Swan, Loon, Bald Eagle, Osprey, Pileated Woodpecker, Raven, Kirkland Warbler, Blue Grosbeak, and Mockingbird.

A letter recently sent to permit holders to explain the intent of the new regulations, points out that it is the duty of the Conservation Department to conserve rare species, and also those birds which have restricted nesting areas in Michigan and are, therefore, in danger of local extermination. For example, the loons and sandhill cranes which nest in southern Michigan, or the several pairs of eagles now nesting within 40 miles of Detroit.

The Department was asked to give complete protection to the mockingbird and blue grosbeak in the hope that these interesting species may eventually become more abundant.

Whooping cranes and trumpeter swans were included in the list as the taking of these birds is prohibited by federal regulations. The Kirkland Warbler merits our protection, for as far as is known, this is the only state in which it breeds.

The announcement of this action by the Conservation Commission, has brought forth numerous inquiries as to the scientific collectors' permits, asking to whom and for what purposes are they given.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

Dahlia plants will bear "bigger and better" flowers if the early buds that appear are removed. It is desirable to remove all the buds until the appearance of cooler weather, when the plants should be allowed to develop normally.

A pig stunted by early weaning will never make so profitable a hog as it would without this setback. A good brood sow properly fed and handled should furnish a good flow of milk until the pigs are 10 to 12 weeks old. Pigs that can not do this should be discarded from the herd.

For higher yields and longer-lived stands, cut alfalfa for hay when the plants are well in bloom, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Cutting at an earlier stage of growth results in hay with higher protein content, but cutting, heaver full bloom keeps the stand in better condition.

Vary the amount of feed for the farm horse according to the work. When a horse is to be idle on the following day, as on Sunday, substitute a grain mash for the Saturday night grain feed and reduce the grain feed for Sunday to about half the usual ration. Do not cook or seal the mash by using water that is too hot. A teaspoonful of salt added to the mash ration will increase its palatability.

To avoid having weeds far more important than it is to kill them. A farmer can keep his farm almost free of weeds if he strictly observes three principles: Prevent weeds from going to seed; prevent weed seeds from being brought to the farm; and, in the case of perennial weeds, prevent them from making top growth, for this will starve the underground part.

For specific advice, write to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

seal or skim milk, good whitewash can be made with only lime and water. Ordinary hydrated lime mixed with water makes satisfactory whitewash; or quicklime (ordinarily called lump lime) may be slacked with a small amount of water. Only freshly burned lump lime should be used. Do not use air-slacked lime, as whitewash made from such lime will not set.

A system of temporary pastures for sheep utilizes lands of low fertility and at the same time insures a revenue from them without much expense for commercial fertilizer. Soybeans are one of the best temporary pastures for sheep where the soil is thin. Wheat, where it can be grown successfully, provides better winter and early spring pasture than rye. Oats and field peas sowed together make an excellent spring pasture for sheep. On fairly fertile land rye is the most economical forage. Alfalfa or sweetclover in good pasture for sheep, but it is necessary to guard against bloat. In some regions alfalfa pasture is quite likely to cause bloat while in other regions there is little or no danger of alfalfa causing bloat in sheep.

Special preparation of livestock feeds by soaking, cooking, or grinding sometimes pays, says the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry. Small hard-coated grains such as rye, wheat, barley, and the grains sorghums should be ground or rolled. Coarse grinding or rolling is better than fine. It may pay to grind for stock with poor teeth, for horses doing very hard work, and for high-producing cows. Cooking improves the palatability of feeds, but is usually expensive and is recommended only in exceptional cases, for example, potatoes and beans for hogs. Lack of quality and palatability may make it desirable to grind or chop roughage. Hay is often so stemmy that livestock will not eat it unless it is made more palatable by grinding or cutting. Soaking is usually inadvisable, though it sometimes improves small or flinty grains when grinding is not practicable.

BANDED DUCKS

A male pintail duck, banded at the Beaver River Marsh, Utah, on September 10, 1929, and a female, banded on the same day at Dawson, N. Dak., 500 miles to the northeast, were both killed on the same day by the same man at the same place—Toluca, Mexico. This interesting coincidence recently came to the attention of the Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture, which directs bird banding studies in this country as a means of obtaining information regarding the flights and life history of native birds. Toluca, where the ducks were killed, is about 1,700 to 2,000 miles from the places where they were banded.

One may be pardoned for wondering what these waterfowl do with daylight after they save it.—Lincoln, Neb., State Journal.

BABY ELEPHANT, HORSE AND GREAT DANE DOG BECOME CIRCUS PAIRS

If you have the pleasure of seeing the BARNETT BROS. CIRCUS this season, you will no doubt be surprised to see three great unusual pairs that are constantly together from morning until night. Prince, a Canadian Great Dane Dog, who has won many cups and ribbons at various dog shows throughout the Dominion of Canada, and Snookie, a full grown horse, standing 34 inches in height and just one inch taller than his pal, Prince, Junie, the baby elephant, and his pals present a unique and awe-inspiring display of various routines of dances, drills, poses, and other difficult executions rarely ever accomplished by animals.

The management of the circus has devoted a tremendous sum of money and time to secure the best training available to produce this act, which is the only one of its kind now before the public. This act is one of the feature animal acts of mixed groups and has no equal.

A special car has been provided to transport these three pals with trainers and attendants from town to town and can only be seen with Barnett Bros. Circus this year at Grayling on Saturday, June 28.

LOSE FAT
Safely and Quickly

Kruschen Salts—a perfect combination of the six mineral salts your body must have every day to function properly purifying your blood of harmful acids and aid the kidneys and bowels to throw off waste material—the continual formation of which is probably the cause of your fat.

In this modern age of living, it's impossible to get these salts from the fancy foods you eat—but don't worry just as long as you have Kruschen Salts.

Take a half teaspoon every morning in a glass of hot water—little by little that ugly fat disappears, you'll feel better than ever before—years younger, more energy. You'll possess that enviable beauty, clear skin, sparkling eyes, superb figure which only perfect health can impart.

An 85c bottle (lasts 4 weeks) at the Mac & Gidley Drug Store or any progressive drugstore in America. Money back if Kruschen doesn't convince you that it is the safest, quickest, easiest way to lose fat.

After the First Twenty-five Thousand Miles

THE VALUE of sound design, good materials and careful craftsmanship is especially apparent in the new Ford after the first twenty-five thousand miles. Long, continuous service emphasizes its mechanical reliability and economy of operation and up-keep.

As you drive the Ford through many months and years you will develop an increasing pride in its appearance and a growing respect for the substantial worth that has been built into it. From every standpoint—in everything that goes to make a good automobile—you will know that you have made a far-seeing, satisfactory purchase.

Wherever you go, you hear enthusiastic praise of the car and this significant, oft-repeated phrase—"I'm glad I bought a Ford."

A FORD owner in New York tells of a 13,000-mile trip across the United States and back in sixty days and says "the car was extremely economical to operate, comfortable and speedy." A grateful father tells how the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield saved his wife and children from serious injury.

To test tires, a large company drove a new Ford day and night, for an average of 500 miles every twenty-four hours. It was still giving satisfactory service after 105,000 miles.

A Ford car that had fallen into Fernan Lake was submerged for twelve days before being raised. After a new battery and carburetor bowl were installed, it was driven back to Spokane under its own power.

Many police departments have written of the special advantages of the Ford in crowded traffic because of its alert speed, acceleration, and ease of control. An increasing number of fleet owners are also purchasing the Ford because their cost figures have given conclusive proof of its economy of operation and up-keep.

In addition to important triumphs in Germany, France and Italy, the Ford won six out of seven leading places in a contest in Finland, first and second in the Rafaela races in Argentina, first and second in the run from Copenhagen to Paris to Copenhagen, three gold medals in England, first ranking in the durability test over the tortuous Amancea road in Peru, and first place in the 1930 reliability run conducted by the Royal Automobile Club of Sweden.

This contest was an exceptionally severe test of endurance and sturdy construction because it was held in the dead of winter and covered 600 miles of steady running over snow-covered country roads and mountainous hills.

For some of the boys it was the first time they had witnessed a big league game and they had the pleasure of seeing Johnson, Tiger fielder, and one of the fastest men in the league, hit two home runs. They returned home Tuesday having had a most enjoyable trip.

A big picnic is to be staged at Mio next Sunday, June 22, by the North-eastern Michigan Band association. Bands from Grayling, Rogers City, Cheboygan, Onaway, Alpena, Gaylord, West Branch, Midland, and Muskegon will be there. Several members of the old Grayling band plan to come to Grayling and attend the picnic with the Grayling band. Each band is supposed to bring their own picnic dinner however sandwiches, coffee, cream and sugar will be furnished free of charge by the Mio organization to the visiting bands.

Alex Hacker, an employee of the state highway department, deliberately ran his car thru the red light on Michigan avenue Tuesday night, and made a left turn. He pleaded guilty before Justice Peterson Wednesday morning. It being his first offense he was let off on payment of costs.

The arrest was made by Officer Roy Holmberg. The latter says that there has been altogether too much disregard of the traffic regulations down town. At times, he says, people see the yellow light come on and immediately speed up and dash right thru the red. When the yellow light comes on before reaching the intersection cars must stop. There is danger in neglecting to do so.

Interesting bits of news and comment about Northeastern Michigan gathered by the E. M. T. A.

June 25 is Prize Lure Now
June 25, 1930, is a date that means a lot to the folks of Ohio, Indiana and surrounding states—a great day, too, for East Michigan. For that's the date this year when the hunger of the Michigan bass may be appeased by your minnow, grub or what-lure-have-you. This is ten days later than the opening of the bass season last year—a fact that will probably increase the number of fish that will surround your eager bait.

A Suggestion For Idle Dollars
Is there any particular reason why dude ranches should be confined to any one part of our United States? We heard a report lately that a couple of enterprising women in Alpena were considering establishing one in the Thunder Bay region, and it made us wonder why no one had thought of it before as an East Michigan resort project. The whole mid-west is a potential client of such a vacation layout.

Cheboygan River Musky Makes The Magazine
A photograph of John Field of Detroit, holding up a musky reaching from his shoulder to the ground, has been shown in many national sports magazines in the last few months, in connection with an article about the bait with which it was caught. And Cheboygan River gets the credit for being the big fellow's native water. Mr. Field caught it last season, near Cheboygan.

EMPHASIZE 3 AIMS IN MEAT COOKERY

Food specialists in the Bureau of Home Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture have emphasized three definite aims in meat cookery:
1. To cook meat according to the cut. Tender cuts can be cooked quickly unless they are large roasts, and are best cooked in utensils without lids and without water. Less tender cuts should be cooked slowly with enough water to soften the connective tissue.
2. To cook meat to bring out the maximum of flavor. Browning meat on the outside and then cooking in the appropriate way for the tenderness of the cut brings out a rich flavor. Savory stuffings and well-flavored gravies enhance the flavor of meat.

3. To eliminate guesswork as to when the meat is done. The oven thermometer and the roast-meat thermometer are recommended as a means to this end. "60 many minutes to the pound" is not a sure guide. The roast-meat thermometer, put directly into the meat before the cooking is begun, shows when the desired stage has been reached. Moreover, it shows when to stop cooking. This way of roasting insures always having the roast exactly the way one likes; not right one time and a little bit wrong the next time.

back the high lights of the Green and White that would be sure to reveal pleasant memories.

He was heartily applauded by all, after which the program continued as follows:

Response—Mary Mahneke.
Class Song—Senior class.
Story by toastmaster.
School Days—Sung by all.
Story by toastmaster.
Valedictory of 1903 by Laura London Parker.
Song—Auld Lang Syne.

All enjoyed hearing the reading of the valedictory address of the class of 1903 and it was perhaps more interesting to those who were school-mates of Mrs. Parker.

The members of the class of '03 included Ben Jerome, Lansing; Freda Niles Brainerd, now of Coldwater; Glen Riley of Potoskey and Chris Clawson who passed away in 1904. Mrs. Parker paid a high tribute to the latter. We were guided through our school years by five superintendents: Mr. Virklund, Mr. Hoover, Mr. Graham, Mr. R. D. Bailey, Miss Nellie Cole, as principal, was with us several years.

A short business meeting followed which was in charge of Miss Ethel Taylor. An Alumni Association was duly organized under the supervision of Professor Henry L. LaBarge. The following officers were chosen for the coming year:

Carl Doroh—President.
Ingeborg Hanson—Secretary.
Committees will be appointed soon to carry out the work of the association and many affairs will be given in the near future.

A dance was given in the school auditorium following the banquet, music being furnished by Art Nooy and his famous Saginaw band. The public was invited to attend.

Thus a very pleasant evening ended which, as the toastmaster remarked, was the beginning of a new era for Grayling High alumni.

Alumnus At Banquet

The following graduates of Grayling High were in attendance at the banquet:

JAMES KING IS NEW PRESIDENT AT OLIVET

Dr. A. E. Vestling, the retiring President of Olivet College, will be succeeded by Dr. James King, who has been Dean of the College and Professor of Philosophy for the past ten years. The new President comes to his office with a thorough knowledge of the institution, as well as the good will of the college constituency.

At the recent Commencement exercises of Olivet College, the President of the Board of Trustees announced an anonymous gift of $250,000 for a woman's new dormitory which will be erected as soon as the central heating plant has been enlarged to take care of the new building, and plans and specifications have been approved.

It was also announced that a gift of $250,000 for a scholarship loan fund had been received from the will of the late William H. Hill of Detroit. These bequests, together with a number of smaller gifts during the past few years, bring the amount to over $1,000,000.

Another announcement was that received enthusiastically during the Commencement season, was that Joseph Truskowski, the famous captain of the University of Michigan's football team of last year, has accepted the position of assistant coach at Olivet College, and will be the mentor for the football team next fall. Under the leadership of Mr. Truskowski, it is expected that Olivet College will win its laurels in the athletic field.

Speaking of the census it is to be remembered that the quality of a town's citizens is fully as important as the quantity.

STATE FAIR AUGUST 31 TO SEPTEMBER 6

Nearly $112,000 is offered this year by the state of Michigan for the encouragement of agriculture in a record-breaking premium and prize list that is expected to make the 81st Michigan State Fair, August 31 to September 6, inclusive, the biggest and most successful in its history. Coupled with this is an entertainment program, headed by the Stampede, with cowboy and cowgirl champions from the famous Cheyenne, Pendleton, Calgary and Fort Worth round-ups performing the hair-raising stunts of the early frontier days.

This event, introduced to Michigan last year at the State Fair with record smashing attendance, will be presented on a scale far bigger than before. Al Sweet's cowboy band will play during the grandstand events.

An additional feature of the Fair this year will be the appearance of the famous Creators' Concern Band, which will present concerts each evening in the Auditorium and on the afternoon of the opening day.

The premium list, totaling $111,748, is $9,000 greater than last year, and is especially attractive to the boys and girls of the 4-H clubs, with a total of $11,000 in prizes and premiums. This is $3,000 more than was awarded last year and is in line with the policy of the state to encourage the farm youth and train them in the latest and most successful methods of stock raising and general farming.

Another feature for the farm youth is the State Fair Boys' School. One boy from each county who has the highest average standing on the regular eighth grade examination and on a special agricultural examination, will be given a trip to this school with all expenses paid. During the Fair he will be given an intensive course in agriculture. More than 1500 alumni of this school have been invited to attend.

Many new features have been obtained for this year's State Fair, including one of the crack troops of the New York State Police, which will present stunts in fancy riding and drilling. A company of infantry from Ft. Wayne will give exhibitions of drilling and army maneuvers.

An Indian village, with a large number of Indians brought direct from the Indian reservations of the West, will be established on the infield, directly in front of the grandstand, where the Indians can be seen going about their daily tasks just as they do on their reservations. They also will take part in some of the events of the Stampede.

Each evening a spectacular display of aerial fireworks will be presented in front of the grandstand at the conclusion of the Stampede performance. The Midway this year will be bigger than ever, with many new and novel features presented by the Johnny J. Jones Exposition, noted from coast to coast.

The racing program presents $12,300 in prizes with the 2-15 trot for the Governor's Cup on Wednesday, September 3, the cup to be presented by Governor Fred W. Green in person. This day is set aside as Governor's Day.

The Canadian government is to take an active part in the Fair, with an exhibit in the Coliseum. This exhibit will show what crops are raised in Canada and give a comprehensive view of the Dominion's natural resources. It also will show prospective tourists the points of interest in Canada.

The Horse Show this year is expected to surpass any past endeavors. As a society event it is expected to take its place in the rank with those at Springfield and Brockton, Mass., with a large number of society exhibitors, who will show their animals in the show ring personally.

Auto races, with the foremost dirt track drivers of the country competing, will be the feature of the closing day.

Special efforts are being made this year to make the Fair a "big event" for the children, with free admission on Tuesday, designated Children's Day. Free tickets are to be distributed to the children throughout the state and many of the events will be free to them, with reduced rates on others.

Thursday will be Farmers' Day and Friday Detroit Day. Plan now to attend Michigan's greatest outdoor event.

REED JOHNSON
Simplicity marked the nuptials Sunday, June 8, in Manistee of Miss Mary Reed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Reed, Jr., of Bear Lake, and Sigurd Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Algot Johnson of Grayling.

Rev. Madley of the Episcopal Church, officiating at the ceremony, read the marriage rites at 3 o'clock.

Miss Reed was lovely in a gown of orchid chiffon and matching picture hat completed the bridal costume. A corsage bouquet of roses and sweet-peas added an attractive note to her costume.

Misses Elsie Eckoff and Donna Weststaff, both teachers in the Manistee schools, who attended Miss Reed as bridesmaids, were attired in gowns of flowered chiffon. Their hats were green and their bouquets were composed of roses and sweet-peas.

Chester Miller and Floyd McCarthy of Manistee assisted Mr. Johnson.

A reception was held at the Reed residence at Bear Lake following the ceremony, 75 guests attending. A banquet was served at 4 o'clock, yellow and orchid being the color scheme.

Mr. Sigurd Johnson, an attorney of Seattle, acted as toastmaster and others on the program included Mr. Morton, Sr., Mayor of Manistee, and Mr. Albert Martineau, a pharmacist of Arcadia, as well as Rev. Madley.

Mr. and Mrs. Algot Johnson and daughter Anna were in attendance at the wedding. Following the reception the couple left for a short honeymoon.
